Associated Press Telegrams
(HAVAS' AGENCY)

Berlin, March 1st, evening.

To-day, in the Chamber of Deputies of Prussia, the discussion of the projects of law relative to the augmentation of the army forces commenced. The Minister of War, General von Kemeke, sustaining the projects of the Government, declared that the increase was inevitable, in view of the armaments of the neighbouring nations, whose example should forcibly be imitated; but not for that to lose confidence, as he himself had it, in the maintenance of peace.

(Rectification.—The Valparaiso telegram of 1st inst. should have read as follows:—"Commander Thompson, of the Huascar.")

THE BATTLE OF ARICA.

The guns of the Huascar have again re-echoed through the Plate, and, strange to say, with the same fatality for her brave commander.

To those who have very closely watched West Coast affairs, the attack on Arica will probably be as little a surprise as the heroic repulse which the telegram announces; but affairs in the Pacific have for the last month remained so very inactive that many of us lost sight of the campaign, and but for Mr. Michael Cané's admirable letters, we should almost have forgotten whether Arica was taken or not, or whether the Chilians intended to attack it by sea or land.

The most descriptive telegram of this new engagement we find in the Nacion, which we give at foot. Telegram though it be, it is sufficient to show that the West Coast war is very far from over, and that the spirit of Peru is as far from being broken as are its resources from being exhausted. If there is any connection between Mr. Morice's letter to the Times and Mr Cané's to the Nacional, the link is sunderel by the balls from the Arica batteries that swept the decks of the Chilian ironclads. The repulse at Arica will probably surprise the Peruvians into fresh efforts to repel her invaders; and although we all must deplore the continuance of the war, our regret is lessened by the conviction that the defiant gunners of Arica acted well their part, and the shot that shivered the mizen mast of the Huascar tore the seals off gunboat contracts framed in Paris and London, and cut to shreds imaginary treaties based on the ruin and misfortunes of the Peruvian nation. The following is the telegram:—

Santiago, March 1, 1880.

On the 27th of February the Chilian monitor Huascar advanced near the fortified peak on the right side of Arica, and was heavily fired upon by the land batteries and the heavy guns from the Peruvian monitor Manco Copac.

The Huascar and the Chilian corvette Magallanes immediately answered the fire. After a short fight the Huascar received a heavy shot in her armour.

The Chilian war-vessels, meanwhile, noticed that the railway trains off Arica were leaving the town crowded with troops, and began firing on the train. Here the battle became general. Whilst the Huascar fired on the trains the land batteries caused great havoc on board, killing seven sailors and wounding eight.

The Chilians retreated to their anchorage where they usually held the blockade, whilst the Peruvian monitor Manco Capac slowly advanced towards them. The Huascar immediately steamed up to meet her. At 200 yards distance the Huascar fired off all her guns at the Manco Capac and prepared to make use of her spur, but a torpedo launch, hanging from the sides of the Peruvian, prevented the attempt being carried out. Whilst the Huascar veered round the Manco Capac a shot from the latter carried off her mizen-mast and killed Captain Thompson, her commander. The second in command, Valvera, then took charge of the Huascar, continuing the battle for one hour more.

The Magellanes, meanwhile, bombarded the town, and received three shots in her sides.

The Commander of the Magallanes, Captain Condell, has taken charge of the Huascar, in order to continue the blockade of Arica.

The losses sustained by the Peruvians are not known up to the present.

Further details are expected, which will be immediately telegraphed."

The following description of Arica is very fresh, being written but a few weeks ago by Mr. Michael Canè:—

"I write these lines whilst the Chilian attack on Arica is imminent. The present state of affairs cannot continue, as Chile will lose through her inaction what she has gained in the last six months. The Chilian attack will be vigorous, and a division of 10,000 to 15,000 men, well armed and well disciplined, will attempt to take the town. The bravery of the troops and the fortune of war will not decide the issue of the battle, in spite of the fatalist doctrines rooted in all classes of society in these regions; able management will win the day.

"There are in Arica 8,000 Peruvian and 4,000 Bolivian troops. The war elements are very deficient: the troops have no light artillery brigades, and then some regiments are armed with Remingtons, others with the old Chassepot, others with the Peabody, and so on. Herein lies the great superiority of the Chilian forces. The fortifications of Arica are strong and will resist an attack by sea. The town itself is weak and insignificant. On the right rises the Morro, 150 metres above the level of the sea, with 7 150-pounders that can fire perpendicularly on the enemy's ships; this is a great advantage, as the shot can be directed on the very decks of the enemy's vessels. Three land batteries defend the town on the left, with several 150 and 500 pounders, all in good condition and excellent positions. The town has been fortified all round with earthworks. There is an abundant supply of ammunition, and as long as the communications are not cut off there will be no scarcity of provisions.

"The spirits of the troops, so much depressed by the late disasters, are beginning to revive; the new commanders inspire more confidence than those who cowardly fled at Dolores. I think that the division of the army now in Arica will fight well, but the issue of the struggle cannot be foretold.

"Admiral Montero, the Peruvian Commander of the forces, is a man of 55 years, tall and thin, with a fine open countenance and eyes which justify his reputation for bravery. His re-organisation of the army has been a heavy task, but he has done much for the army.

"Ennui, the terrible tyrant of the mind, reigns supreme in Arica. The most intense spleen seizes the soul of man in this desolate district. The town is blockaded, and one day succeeds the other with exasperating uniformity. The Morro hoists a signal flag in the distance; a steamer glides by. A distinguished young Peruvian, pointing out to me the Cochrane and Covadonga getting up steam, as usual at sunset, says, 'There is my consolation, my dear friend. Our 'ennui' is to the square, but theirs is to the cube.' I then thought of the long, tired and dogged faces on board the monitor, brightening up like a spark at the very idea of some active work. I now declare that, between blockading and being blockaded, I'd rather be drowned. I did not feel the irrepressible fatalist 'ennui,' that overcame all, so much, as I had a moral satisfaction at living amongst Argentines, and such friends as Indalicio Gomez, Saenz Peña, and others.

"There is nothing more flattering to us than the friendly feelings and respect expressed towards the Argentine Republic by Peruvians. Argentines are received with open arms not only in the high society of Lima but in every social branch of Peru. There is, besides, an important fact, which accounts much for the respect paid us: In the criminal statistics of Peru there figures not a single Argentine. Perhaps we improve in foreign lands."

The Maskelyne's Mails.
London, 5th Feb., 1880.

The splendid Lamport and Holt steamer Maskelyne entered Montevideo on the fifth Sunday in Feb., a day that, according to some, will not be repeated for 300 years. In congratulating Chevalier Hairby on his arrival in the Plate on so auspicious a day, we also welcome his passengers who had such very hard times in the Bay of Biscay.

In the list of passengers we meet the names of many old friends, none more esteemed than Don Juan Davidson, whose wide circle of friends will be delighted to see him back again in the Plate.

The following is the list:—

Our Vienna correspondent telegraphs particulars of the steps which have been taken with a view to bring about a final arrangement of the question between Holland and the Grand Duchy of Luxemburg, which has been pending since 1830.

Last night's Fremdenblatt, our Vienna correspondent telegraphs, states that despatches from Teheran have been received at the Porte, announcing that a gathering of the people at Herat by Eyoub Khan decided to oppose by armed force any attempt on the part of the English or Persians to enter their stronghold; and further they resolved to hold the place until the issue of the Russian expedition against Merv was secured, so that Eyoub Khan may eventually be made ruler of Herat under the Protectorate of Russia.

With the object of discussing the proposal for the exchange of the Kucka-Krajna district for that of Gussinje, a military commission is now sitting at Constantinople. It is stated that, on political grounds the commissioners are favourable to the proposed arrangement, but they disapprove of it for military reasons.

The Greek Chamber of Deputies has voted the bill granting the Government 2,500,000 drachmas, of the loan of sixty millions, for the defrayal of current expenses. The Ministerial crisis of Jan. 26th was caused by the refusal of this grant.

Her Majesty the Empress of Russia reached St. Petersburg yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. She was met, two stations from the capital, by the Czar.

M. De Freycinet's health has so far improved that he was able to attend the Ministerial Council yesterday morning, when he presented to his colleagues several important diplomatic despatches.

During the heavy fog which prevailed at Paris and its neighbourhood on Tuesday evening, a collision occurred between two trains near the Clichy Levallois Station. Eight persons were killed, and some fifty others more or less seriously injured.

On the subject of Mr. Parnell having been given the use of the House of Representatives at Washington for the delivery of a partisan address on British politics, the New York World remarks that the proceeding was plainly a piece of demagogism.

Yesterday's New York Herald announced that it had opened a subscription list for the relief of the distress in Ireland, itself leading with a donation of $100,000.

According to intelligence received at San Francisco from Lower California, the Governor of the province of Frontera had called out the militia and proclaimed martial law throughout the district on account of the Marquez insurrectionary movement at La Paz. Subsequently Martinez was driven from the place, and fled northwards with a few followers.

Speaking last night at Liverpool, at a meeting of Mr. Whitley's supporters, Lord Sandon referred to the 'five charges' brought against the leaders of the Conservative party, and stated that in answer to inquiries he had made, he had received telegrams from Sir William Hart Dyke and Colonel Taylor, the managers of the party, giving the most absolute denial to Mr. Sullivan's allegations.

Yesterday forenoon the remains of Mr. John Locke, Q.C., M.P. were conveyed from Eatonplace to Norwood Cemetery, and laid beside the coffins of his mother and father in the catacombs.

Dr. Millar yesterday made another application to the magistrate at the Bow-street Police-court for a summons against the proprietors and publisher of the Echo. Mr. Vaughan told him that his case had already been decided, and absolutely refused to grant him a fresh summons.

On the Stock Exchange yesterday Home Railways were in request in the morning, but closed at a partial relapse. Sheffield 'A' and Original however, improved 4⅛ and 2½ p. c. respectively. Some of the Foreign Bonds, including Egyptian and Turkish Tribute, advanced but Argentine, Chilian, Italian, and Russian gave way. Canadian lines were better. Consols showed dulness, at 98⅛,¼ for money and the account. The efflux of £50,000 in gold from the Bank for Egypt was reported.

IRISH FAMINE

The magnificent donation of the New York Herald to the Irish Relief Fund, Twenty Thousand Pounds, is a munificence that claims both our thanks and our admiration. The New York Herald on many occasions has taken precedence of every paper in the world, and wherever genius combined with enterprise and a lavish expenditure of capital could secure an editorial victory the New York Herald has always won. In the eleemosynary world our redoubtable New York colleague has now entered, and with a public spirit only to be found in such a boundless, magnificent country as the United States, Mr. Bennett throws down a donation that distances Queen and Duchesses, Rothschilds and Barings, Bank of England and Guild Hall, Lord Mayors and Nobles. Such charity, even though many may regard it as tinged with business, reveals the spirit of the superb, a spirit that Mr. Bennett has inherited from his father who made the very difficulties that opposed the journal the means of its success. Our admiration at Mr. Bennett's conduct in opening a subscription list at his office and heading that list with one hundred thousand gold dollars is beyond all measure, all definition; its grandeur strikes us all here in South America, and we leave it to our readers to imagine the sensation it has caused throughout Europe, nay, we may add, throughout the whole world.

The following advices in connection with this subject are the freshest at hand and received per Maskelyne:—

Messrs Drexel, Morgan and Co., who have been forwarding money from the United States for Mr Parnell's Irish Relief Fund, wish it to be understood that they simply forward contributions from any source for famine relief, having no connection with any movement for raising money for political purposes. Having learnt that their action was misconstrued, they declined receiving further subscriptions for Mr. Parnell's Fund. The Philadelphia Relief Fund reaches $10,152; Boston, $5,000. American contributions now reach $130,000.

The Baltimore Relief Committee report reluctance to contribute by some persons who fear that their contributions may be diverted to political purposes. They publish a correspondence in which Mr. Parnell urges them to send their money to his relief fund. This they declined to do.

The New York Herald to-day, recognizing the necessity of Liberal donations in aid of Irish relief, opens a subscription, heading it with $100,000. The money collected is to be given to a competent committee, who will disburse it for the relief of actual want. The Philadelphia committee has transmitted $3,000 more to the Royal Bank of Ireland. Peoria, Illinois, contributes $5,000. Quebec has raised $5,400, remitting on Tuesday $5,000 to the Lord Mayor of Dublin. Ottawa similarly remits $1,000. Alexander Manning, Toronto, has contributed $1,000. The American contributions now reach $242,000.

Monseigner Freppel, in ordering a general collection for Ireland in his diocese, remarks that if there is one country the name of which should inspire respect, it is noble and Catholic Ireland, where, in 1870, more than a million francs were generously raised for French victims of the war. The distress caused in Anjou by the bad harvest might have made him hesitate to issue such an appeal; but there is no comparison between French and Irish sufferings, and generosity is meritorious in proportion to the effort required.

A Dull Headache, Costiveness, Low Spirits, and No Appetite, are some of the indications of a Bilious Attack, arising from a Torpid Liver. Dr. Jayne's Sanative Pills will soon restore the Liver to action, drive all symptoms of biliousness from the system, and assist in bringing about a regular action of the bowels.

WANDERINGS IN EUROPE.
(By a Young Argentine).

Genoa, Jan. 27th, 1880.

On the 15th inst. my first letter to you should have left Bordeaux. Since then the time has passed so rapidly that I found it impossible to write, but I wish to tell you what I have done, seen, and studied in Paris, although my note-book affords me sufficient matter to write a book, which is my desire to do next year, when I perfect myself in the Spanish language.

Happy is the young man who travels through Europe well read in history; the name of a single place will often bring to his imagination the iron chain which has been forged there; and although some of my friends on reading this letter may laugh, I should like to take them to Nice and show them the house where Garibaldi was born, where first dawned the Aurora of genius that illumined our country in the years 1840 to 1846—witnesses who were present in the siege of Montevideo. Unfortunately they are pulling down this house to make a public park, and from the ruins I saved a stone as a memento.

Up to the 17th inst. I remained in Paris, assisting each Tuesday and Saturday at the conferences of International Law, and on Wednesday and Friday Public Health. These conferences lasted an hour, from one to two o'clock, and they are attended by notable professors. The principle conference is held at Sorbonne, which is the University of Paris; one who must well know this place is Dr. Quesada, who is in Paris curing his sight, and at the same time studying, and who has written, as you are probably aware, a book on Parses and Juvenal, and some chapters on International Law. It is wonderful the instruction to be had in Paris, the various means afforded and the facility for study. There are public libraries at every corner, whilst in Buenos Ayres, the Biblioteca Nacional is shut up for want of funds, and the Biblioteca Provincial has been shut up for the last three years, under the pretext of repairs; and as for the parish libraries they are not worth talking of, since they only have novels and poetry. What most struck me was the French soldier; everyone respects him. In winter he is housed in magnificent barracks, four or five stories high. The principal barrack is in the Place de la Republique. The French soldier always wears white gloves, and you find him in the tertulias of the Orchestre at the Grand Opera, which shows the respectable admission he gets everywhere; you meet the studious soldier in every book-shop. The other day when I was at the great Biblioteca I saw a soldier there very much occupied studying a medical work. In trying to reach a book off the shelf I slightly touched his head with my arm, he immediately asked my pardon, and this led us into conversation; I asked him what he was reading a chemical book for, and he replied, to find out the cheapest way to make..... 'and thus you see,' he said, 'a French soldier turned into a Greek alchemist;' and do not wonder at this, because the sons of the best families are private soldiers in the army, military service in France being obligatory; he whose turn comes to serve, has to take off his coat and put on the soldier's jacket, as here no 'personeros' are allowed. I happened to be in Marseilles the day the lots were drawn, and those who had to march hired coaches with tricolor flag and drove through the town singing the Marseillaise. It was a regular 'fiesta,' but only provincial. In Paris they don't do such things.

On the 15th of January the cold returned to Paris. Up to that day the temperature was agreeable, 5° to 12° above zero: but on that day the snow began, and it was this that induced me to leave Paris. I have had the good fortune to meet a young Brazilian named Souza, the son of a banker in Rio, who is amusing himself travelling, having passed his examination as a lawyer. He is sub-secretary of the Brazilian Legation, and the most estimable person. This will relieve you of all fears about robbers or bad company, and I carry very little money about me, having taken the Marquis's advice before leaving Paris to buy Cook's coupons, which pay for breakfast dinner and room, therefore, I can't be robbed. These coupons are like a check, you sign them and pay with them, and it is admirable their convenience throughout Europe, but principally in England, as the company, as a matter of course, is English. I left Paris on the 17th at a quarter past 7 at night, and crossing all France, arrived at Marseilles at 10½ next day. On Sunday the 18th, I intended to sleep, but it was impossible, so many passengers, so much conversation going on, and so many families entering, all bound for Nice. When I arrived at Marseilles after a short rest I went and took a Turco-Romanic bath, which all the doctors order for travellers, and I found it to agree with me. Afterwards we quietly breakfasted, and about one o'clock started to see the town. Here in Europe they have the custom to breakfast and dine very late. Obeying the instructions of our guide-book we made what is termed the 'paseo corniche' which runs round all the city on the sea shore. The day was fine, with a clear

Along this paseo all the families drive in carriages, reminding me very much of Palermo, only that Palermo was much better. We also saw much of the city, as in returning to the Hotel you have to cross the town, as Marseilles is built on a Cape. That night we went to the theatre to see the Huggenots, which was over at half past eleven, and then to bed, and I can assure you I never slept more soundly in all my life than that night.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The splendid Lamport and Holt steamer Maskelyne, commanded by Chevalier Harvey, has made another quick run out: she brings London papers to 5th Feb. from which we give extracts in another column. There is no very important news. The Empress of Russia, who was represented last month to be at death's door at Cannes, has returned to St. Petersburgh; her Imperial spouse met her two stations from the capital. It is not improbable that the Empress's return to her family may have some political consequences as it is known that the Russian Madame de Pompadour (the lovely princess D.) who has held the Czar in her toils for some time past and caused much disunion in the Imperial family, has been the main cause of the Emperor refusing to his people those concessions which can alone save his throne, his dynasty and his life, she being, like her prototypes in all countries, an out-and-out Conservative, and opposed to all reform. It is to be inferred that the Empress's return will necessitate this lady's being sent to the right about, and allow the Czar to listen to wiser and more legitimate advisers. If he do not, the Nihilists will most assuredly 'do' for him. The visit of the Imperial Prince of Germany to Italy attracts much attention: of course, the official journals deny that it has any political significance, and say that His Imperial Highness has only gone to rejoin his wife (our Princess Royal) who is delicate and has lately resided in Italy. Meanwhile all the papers give the news that the great cannon foundry at Spandau is working day and night (Sundays included) turning out 12 pounder field pieces.

Although the inauguration of the Flower Show on Sunday was not up to the mark, the Show itself is acknowledged to be very good and well worth a visit. The weather, unfortunately, has got rather nippy, especially in the evening, which tells against the attendance. We observe the following names amongst the exhibitors:—Messrs G Bates, J. Younger, T. Wilson, L. Chapeau rouge, J. Estrada, G. Fourcade, P. Basset, V. Peluffo, A. Dordoni, P. Chiesa, S. Sutton, N. Durand, A. Lanus, E. Rodriguez, J. Calzetta and others.

The bull-fight at Montevideo on Sunday was another fiasco: The bulls were plucky enough, but the performers were 'not the men for Galway,' or rather Madrid; the audience was small, and, to crown all, the weather was so windy and cold that the teeth of all the spectators were so loosened with chattering that the dentists have had a busy time of it ever since.

Answer to arithmetical poser in our last—'Two-ninths.

The sudden turn in affairs on the West Coast has revived the spirits of the friends of Peru. The old Yankee iron-clad Manco Capac, which was qualified as an 'old tub' by some left her mark on her former consort the Huascar, one of her 600 lb shells killing Captain Thompson and seven of his crew, besides knocking the mainmast into splendid trim for making lucifer matches. The Ten Cents war is not over yet.

The Porteño announces that the domestic 'hogar' of Mr. Vincent Trignolo was burned about his ears on Saturday night by some enthusiastic patriots who objected to the political colour of his hat. We're improving—cow's tail fashion.

The mayoral of a Dolores diligencia suddenly found himself minus a pocket-book containing $60,000 m/c last week. During a halt to change horses a sharp thief made off with the 'cartera,' which the mayoral had most incautiously left on the seat of the coach.

The sensation of the day in military and volunteer circles is Mr. Costa Arguibel's new Argentine rifle, which beats the Remington to nothing, its range being 3,000 metres and the price much lower than that of the North American weapon. Mr A. has applied for a patent. Better have invented a machine to reap the harvest of Wheat rather than the harvest of Death.

Triple births are getting quite common in this country. A settler's wife at one of the colonies presented her husband with three daughters last week, and on Saturday the wife of a well known city procurador gave birth to three sons, who are all alive and, we presume, kicking and squealing as most young gentlemen do at their time of life.

Messrs. Lacosta and Co. have applied for a concession to work some valuable mines they have discovered in the south of this province. We believe it is a case of 'black diamonds.'

The Industrial opposes vigorously Mr. Palacios's proposal to open an establishment in the city for the sale of all the articles made by the convicts in the Penitentiary. There is far more sentiment than sound political economy in our colleague's virtuous indignation at Mr. Palacios's scheme.

The first exhibits from Europe for the Exhibition in September are coming out in the Galicia—plants and seeds.

There is such an enormous crop of honey in Paraguay this year that it is proposed to make sugar from it on a large scale.

It is said that the Provincial Government will soon abolish the Municipal rule which prohibits meat or vegetable shops within a certain radius of the public markets. It will be a decided boon to the public if this is done, not only in convenience but in cash.

A Montevidean paper announces that Colonel Courtin, Captain of that Port, has made within the last two months 100 000 pats gold, on next to no capital and less work. We know of hundreds, aye thousands, who are eminently qualified both as regards capital and capacity and inclination for work to succeed 'a merveille' in such a business, and it is to be hoped the gallant Colonel will publish his secret when he has amassed a couple of dozen milliards of patacons. Six hundred thousand gold dollars a year at compound interest for ten years! Rothschild is in genteel poverty compared with it.

We are requested by the Committee of the Irish Relief Fund to remind those of our friends in the camp and elsewhere to whom subscription lists have been sent, and from whom no replies have been yet received, that the collection will be soon closed, and that an early return of the subscription lists will, therefore, be appreciated.

The news about the Famine in Ireland shows no change for the better, except that the subscriptions in North America are likely to increase, our colleague, Mr. Bennett, of the New York Herald, having struck a key-note which has fairly taken away the breath of European contributors. Let a man be ever so rich, he must have his big heart in the right place when he puts down one hundred thousand gold dollars (£20,000) to relieve the distress of a foreign people. Cardinal Wiseman was right when he said that being born and bred in such a vast country as North America, where everything has been done by Nature on such a stupendous scale, levels man's mind up to his surroundings. Rothschild is perhaps forty times as rich as our colleague Bennett, but the American took a forty times larger and more generous view of the distress in Ireland: the great banker was not born near Niagara. The figures of the subscription lists are significant: Of £40,000 subscribed to the Lord Mayor of Dublin's Fund, £28,000 are from Australia, £10,000 from England, and the balance from Ireland, so that the Irish in Buenos Ayres alone have already subscribed (and they have not quite finished yet) as much to the Lord Mayor's Fund as their countrymen at home! For some reason, which will, perhaps, become apparent later on, the affluent classes in Ireland are not subscribing to relieve the distress at their own doors. 'Tis strange 'tis passing strange.' There is one Irishman we have not yet heard of in reference to the Famine, and that is Mr Mackey of California, the Bonanza King who has £18 a minute income. The man who can afford to give 700,000 francs for a diamond necklace for his wife ought to be able to afford a paltry million (only £40,000) to relieve his starving countrymen. Even in Bombay they are now subscribing for Ireland.

All the Ramsays in town were yesterday pestered with enquiries as to the result of the Liverpool election, but none of them seemed to have received any news from their noble relative. The Daily Telegraph takes a rather poor view of Lord Ramsay's chance, and says that 'too late it dawned upon his mind that without a push from Hibernia he could not reach St. Stephen's.' It appears that the Irish party in Liverpool hold the casting vote.

Example is powerful. The Orientales resident in this city are now getting up a Tiro Nacional, on a strictly peaceful footing. Oh!

The gold market gave way to-day not from any heavy bear speculation but from the weight of gold brought on the Bolsa. Fifty thousand pats were delivered to-day by one party, and the receivers unable to sell them cash, paid five cents to carry them till Saturday; the brokers and bankers all know of the transaction, so there is no reserve in the matter. The market ruled so very weak to-day that there was much of a 'stand from under' feeling, and the scarcity of paper money is such that people who have to receive gold find it cheaper to sell it than look up the banks and money lenders to carry it. There is a feeling in the market that owing to the great activity in our wool exports we shall have a very dull time in the winter, very little to export, exchange low and gold high; but the Custom House returns for the last few months show a great decline in imports, and these winter calculations about the market may prove just as illusory as some views about the summer.

Gold opened at 30.45, advanced to 30.50, then gave way, closing at 30.45; the cash sales amounted to 76,925. For Saturday there was a heavy business done, much gold deliverable to-day was resold for that date, 120,000 sold at 30.45, whilst for the end of the month the bulls are buying freely at 30.55 and 70, yet spite of all their purchases prices dropped and closed at 30.60. For April speculators are buying, calculating on a drop in exchange before then, 130,000 sold 30.75.

We note in the papers received to-day per Maskelyne that Arg. Public Works Bonds fell in London on Feb. 4th 3½ per cent, and the 1868 and Hard Dollars fell 1. The other commercial advices are very favorable, and the account sales received by the Congo have lighted up the countenances of every Frenchman on 'Change.

Another batch of splendid telegrams today; one of our shippers received news to-day of the sale of 700 bales for his account at Havre and at splendid prices. We hear of 100 bales shipped from here by a ship captain which have left 15 per cent profit, and a recent arrived young Englishman, who went down South a few months ago, put the little capital he brought out into wool; the wool is now in the market and our friend nearly doubles his money; his views about this country are the most favorable we have heard from the lips of a Londoner for many, many years.

Messrs W. Samson and Co. received telegram to-day announcing the arrival of their splendid Allan steamer Buenos Ayrean at Havre on 1st inst, 26 days run. All these Allan steamers have established a high reputation for quick and punctual sailing.

The rise in Treasury Bonds show well the market; 78 for this stock in the midst of such great political excitement shows the market confidence in Dr. Plaza, our talented Minister of Hacenda, and the National Treasury. A few months ago this stock was thought dear at 75.

Besides other sales in the South Market Messrs Peyredieu & Bradley sold to-day 4,000 arrobas of special wool from Mr Manuel Pose's estancia at the wonderful price of $145! The rest of this wool will be in next week, and is is even of better quality, the cream of the estancia. The same firm sold some borrega wool of last year at 86, and mixed at 96; other lots of wool at 108, 112, 118.

The business of the Bolsa was interrupted by the meeting, and although the attendance was small there was more business done than at any previous meeting that we recollect. The new Reglamento with very few alterations was passed, and it is sufficient for the mercantile community to know that the most salient point of the new rules is that hence forward the Bolsa will be closed and iron gates shut at 4 o'clock every day, save Saturdays and last day of the month. The bell will ring out half an hour beforehand, and the doors will be shut precisely at 4 o'clock. It is certainly now more than 15 years since Mr Bunge and many others tried to effect this radical change in our business hours, and every effort failed owing to the late breakfast hours of our barraqueros, but this new Reglamento has at last carried the reform, and was drawn up by Mr Maschwitz. It is unnecessary to report any of the speeches at the meeting, since we are free to admit that we did not hear one word that was said, and in all our experience of public meetings we think the Bolsa meetings take precedence for speakers with weak voices and lungs. The President of the Bolsa, Don Emilio Fernandez occupied the chair and discharged its onerous duties with his accustomed ability and savoir faire. At 4 o'clock the whole proceeding terminated; very many parties who were present being completely ignorant of the result of the meeting, or the great changes which it effected.

The great novelty on 'Change was the Catalogue of the Antwerp wool auction on 24th January 1880, a book that spread sunshine over the Bolsa; here were found all the lots of the various exporters, the prices they fetched with their classification; not since the Franco German war have we seen such an auction catalogue. A private letter from a well-known manufacturer, whose artista agent out there has bought largely, says that the best wools offered at auction were by

Oesterrieth for Calmus
Falcon. A. M. C.
Rhodius and Co. and Fahrman.

At the auction there was a large attendance of buyers from Fourmes and Reims, and English, German and Austrian buyers preponderated. The wools, Magdalena, firsts sold at 2.30-40 and 45, and even some of Fuhrman's at 2.60, and second wool sold at 2.35. We note in the correspondence in question that combing wool was selling then at 6.60-70, and even 7 frcs.

It was not to be wondered at that in presence of such splendid prices wool should advance as it has done. Messrs Duggan sold to-day from deposit and in the plaza about 15,000 ar. at from 112 to 125 m/c, splendid prices, and Messrs Peyredieu and Bradley completely topped everything in the market by selling 4000 ar. Magdalena at 146 m/c per arr.. perhaps the highest price ever paid in the Plate for mestiza wool.

At 4 o'clock there was a sharp collapse in the Cedula market, caused by the astounding news that the Municipality is about to take out one million of Cedulas on two of the city markets and streets. As the security is so excellent the business may be regarded the same as finished. Of course, if one million of Cedulas should come on the market, prices would be affected seriously, but the matter has, we believe, to first pass the Chambers, still the matter got talked of, sellers of Cedulas were offering at much under the market rate.

Gold at 5 o'clock ruled very weak, 10,000 sold at 30.35 and more offered at same rate, but no buyers over 30.30.

The Hamburg steamer Argentina has entered to Luders and Co.

Mr Lynen, of Montevideo, was welcomed on 'Change; he reports wool season in Montevideo all over, 38,000 bales total clip, about 6 or 700 bales inferior wool left, nothing more.

The Custom House receipts to-day were 51,165 pats.

The drawing at the Mortgage Bank of the Popular Bonds for Amortization attracted greater crowds than at any previous drawing. We noticed people there of every 'gremio' and of every walk in life. The bonds seem at last to be scattered amongst the public; and it was remarkable to observe that although no notice had been given of this drawing in the papers the patio of the Bank was crowded. For the last three or four months none of these bonds have been offered in the market, and yet, strange to say, judging by the crowd in the Bank patio, the stock seems to be spreading through the market. It was quite evident to those who watched the proceedings on Monday that by a little push, and perhaps a little more inducement, every bond of this emprestito might have been placed in the market. As there is a scheme before the Government for the launching of the 2nd Series, we commend to the notice of those interested in the matter the increased attention of the general public to these drawings.

Advices from the South camps report a great want of rain, and although the pasturages are not exhausted, the estancieros in the far South are much frightened. Strange to say, the rains during the summer have been all to the North. As the summer is now nearly over our South friends need have no apprehension as to further drought.

There is much said in the market about our supply of wheat running short, and the necessity during the winter of large importations from Chile and elsewhere. It may, however, be useful to remark, that men who know more of what is going on in the Republic than is spoken of on the Bolsa, are of opinion that the present high price of wheat and its presumed scarcity are more the result of speculation than anything else. Flour at 42 m/c the arroba is a much higher price than what we paid for that article when we did not produce one-tenth of the wheat of even this short year; and although the consumption of bread in the country has immensely increased within the last few years, the belief is that there is wheat enough for the entire home consumption of the Republic. The city of Buenos Aires requires 600,000 fanegas, and the provinces only produce, they say, about 350,000; but our accurately informed correspondent in Rosario states that much wheat and flour may be expected down from the Upper Provinces; that the maize crop in the Interior has been very abundant, and that prices for wheat are so high in Rosario that although the people in the Interior have to live on maize, the wheat and flour will be brought to market.

The financial advices from London per Maskelyne are as follows:—

"Among other causes of the better demand for money yesterday and to-day is the subscription to the South Australian loan, which is announced to have been about five times over applied for. This means a temporary locking up of a large sum of money, which, together with the influences upon the market referred to yesterday, is sufficient to account for the improvement in the value of money. As good a test as any of the rate for three months' bank bills is the price tendered for the Treasury bills. At the price these have been taken up at to-day the Government pays a trifle over 2 per cent per annum for the money, which is about the discount rate of the day. The Bank has lost about one quarter of a million of gold during the week ended this evening.

"Peruvian Bonds, recently the object of so much attention, were just steady, and most other South American issues were rather neglected and dull. Argentine Bonds were flat, at a sharp fall on some large sales made in a market always limited.

"The tenders for the South Australian Government Four per Cent Loan for £3,294,600 were opened to-day by the eight associated banks and the Agent General, and amounted to £14,996,700, at prices ranging from the minimum of £92 10s to £102 10s 6d. Tenders at and above £93 17s 6d receive allotments in full, and those at £93 17s about 35 per cent of the amount applied for."

The following shows the very narrow escape of some of the most distinguished Paris bankers:—

"Much excitement has prevailed throughout the day on account of the railway collision which occurred on the line to Argenteuil. The train to which the accident happened was a suburban train containing several financiers, merchants, clerks, and business men living at a short distance from Paris, who were returning to their homes. The names of several of the victims have been made public, but it is difficult to verify the exact number of dead, as several of the wounded were carried to private houses and hospitals in the neighbourhood. Besides seven persons known to have been killed in the collision, it was estimated last night that 25 were seriously injured and several more wounded less severely or simply bruised. M Puyserat, the head of a firm of brokers on the outer Bourse, and M Dusargues de Colombies, the director of the "Bulletin des Halles", are among the persons killed in the accident."

Copy of Analysis by Professor Kyle.

National College, Buenos Ayres, November 29th 1879.

Messrs. M. Forrester & Co., Buenos Ayres.

Gentlemen—I haveat your request made a careful examination of he sample of JEYES'S SHEEP DIP you handed to me on the 18th inst. I find it to be a well made preparation of Phenols and other Tar products, combined with soap, retaining the liquid form and easily mixible with water, from which it does not afterwards separate.

The proportion of active ingredients amounts to rather over 80 per cent. it is free from Mineral Poisons and from Caustic Alkalies. In my opinion it is well worth the attention of Sheepfarmers, and will be found by them to be convenient, safe, and I do not doubt, very efficacious as a Sheep Dip From the readiness with which the preparation can be mixed with cold water it ought to prove most acceptable as a domestic disinfectant, being more convenient than crude Carbolic Acid or the disinfectant powders so frequently employed.

I am, Gentlemen, your obedient servant,

JOHN J. J. KYLE, Professor of Chemistry.

"The Sheep Dip is the best that I have ever used. I have not seen a single Maggot on any of the Sheep since we used it. The wool looks beautiful, and to all appearance improved in quality. I feel satisfied it will be an invaluable boon to our large Sheepfarmers in the Colonies, and it only wants to be appreciated."
